SPOOR

Spoor – The post hole digger from OneHorn is designed for versatile applications including fencing, sapling plantation, sign post installation, and farm infrastructure work. It enables fast and precise hole digging, reducing manual effort and saving valuable time in the field. Powered by a robust auger with high-strength blades, it ensures smooth operation and effective penetration even in dense and tough soil conditions. With consistent hole depth and uniform results, Spoor enhances productivity, improves work efficiency, and delivers reliable performance across a wide range of agricultural and land preparation tasks.

Salient features

Heavy duty frame structure ensures stability and long lasting durability in demanding field conditions

High performance gearbox delivers smooth power transmission and reliable operation

Sharp edged auger blades enable faster digging with clean and uniform holes even in tough soil
